Edward “Eddy” is strategic liberal on the path towards righteousness. After receiving his online degree in digital cinematography from full sail university, he moved to Wyoming to live with his girlfriend he met online and begin his career teaching middle schoolers videography. Since he allows his students to call him “Mr. Eddy,” he is considered to be the coolest teacher in school.

Each week he thinks of new ways to change the way he teaches and make sure his students produce creative material. In the past he has made arrangements for his colleagues to skype in to his class and also create a class facebook page for all his students to follow. In his spare time he works on a written proposal to provide each of his students with an iPad and other academic resources.

Mr. Eddy values ambitious students, open-minded colleagues, flexible schedules, friendly strangers, and entertaining online cat videos
